Our mission is to support humans to master their own lives by using Agile

Karl Smith

Our major focus in 2021 has been establishing the Agile World Broadcast Network as a voluntary community experiment focused on global communication through targeted languages. In this first year we hoped to engage through five languages and have far exceeded that with ten.

Countries are no longer barriers to knowledge but languages are

Sabrina Bruce

As we move into 2022 Agile World will continue to expand into more and more languages to support wider and wider.

Our focus remains on building free resources and educational materials for all ages and referencing the existing Entertainment and Educational resources that have been created in 2021 by our fantastic team of volunteers.

AGILE WORLD INITIATIVES

We know that Agile is a way of working and living that makes anything possible for anyone. Agile World started with just two visionary people it has set out a bold agenda for enabling all humans.

Agile World Broadcast Network was the first initiative and was born out a new movement in Agile toward altruism and service to humanity. Exemplified by two Trustees of the Agile20Reflect Festival the then CMO and CTO. Together they created a formidable team of Agilists seeking to engage with and raise up other peoples voices and experiences. Over 2021 this initiative has gained a huge momentum mainly outside professional services Agile as place to gain knowledge and insights from people already benefiting from Agile.

The Agile World Broadcast Network platform has inspired 28 people to volunteer. With them they have brought many new languages that are enabling a large and diverse audience to learn and evolve their skills and knowledge.

This is the leading initiative and is an indication of the charities capabilities and commitment to achieve its vision in support of all humans.
